The weekend might be over, but there are still plenty of weekday food and drink events in South Florida to keep you busy. Whether you're looking to eat a Brooklyn Brewery inspired dinner, cook like Bobby Flay, or play dirty bingo, there's something to do in Broward and Palm Beach counties this week.

14th Annual Signature Grand Ghoul

If you ever wanted to converse over cocktails with NFL Alumni and other local celebrities, here's your chance.

Taking place at Signature Grand (6900 W State Rd. 84, Fort Lauderdale), the event features a costume contest, auction, and gourmet buffet. Tickets are $100 per person and $150 for two tickets. Proceeds benefit 2-1-1 Broward, a 24-hour helpline with support services to those seeking crisis intervention assistance and information to health and human services in Broward County. The event starts at 7 p.m. Visit 211-broward.org.
